Abstract

Internet Money (IM) was created to serve as a form of peer to peer "digital cash". The contract is simple: you can buy, sell, send and burn IM. Internet Money has no admin keys, no taxes, no reflections and is deflationary.

Internet Money started its journey by launching on BNB Smart Chain (BSC) on November 30th, 2021. It currently runs on BSC, Ethereum and PulseChain.

In our modern societies, most financial systems operate in such a way that those who already control the wealth, maintain their wealth and continue to drain more wealth from the system. Or further their wealth by printing more of the currency. Internet Money aims to solve this major problem that plagues other financial ecosystems. How? Internet Money is deflationary. Which means that less and less IM will exist over time. Making the IM you hold today, rarer in the future. This feature, aims to rival inflation, the devaluing of your money over time. As Internet Money garners adoption, it's possible you will have more buying power for goods and services with the same IM you hold in this moment. With our approachable branding, clean design, and deflationary nature, we believe Internet Money can see mass adoption in both the digital and physical worlds. Changing how humans utilize money as we know it.

Cryptocurrency was created to be a decentralized way to interact with money. We aim to take continual steps towards the decentralization of every facet of the Internet Money ecosystem; because we believe this is the way money should be:

No centralized entities.

No controlling forces.

Power in the hands of the people.

Tokenomics

Distribution

Due to the deflationary nature of IM (Buy and Burn), the total supply of each chain will decrease over time.

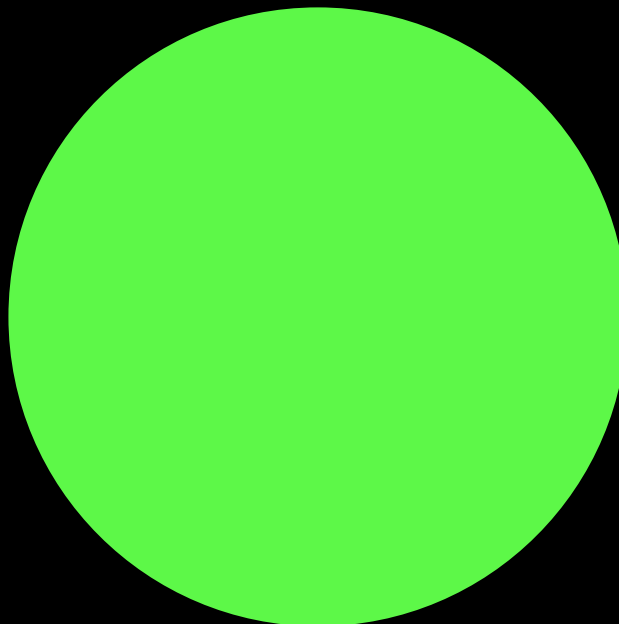

BNB Smart Chain (BSC): When IM launched on BSC (11/30/2021), it started with a supply of 420 trillion. Since then, over 415 trillion have been burned (see here). There are currently a total of 5,280,983,154,739 (just over 5 trillion) IM tokens on BSC.

Ethereum: When IM launched on Ethereum (02/02/2023), it started with a supply of 9,846,560,365,627 (just under 10 trillion). Since then, just under 2 trillion have been burned. There are currently a total of 7,880,983,154,738 (just under 8 trillion) IM tokens on Ethereum.

PulseChain: IM launched on PulseChain on 05/27/2023. Its starting supply is 6,709,060,616,430 (~6.7 trillion).

Current Holders: All IM on BSC, Ethereum, and PulseChain is in the hands of the holders. There is NO TEAM ALLOCATION. NO tokens reserved for development or marketing. The IM supply is truly and completely, decentralized.

Buy and Burn

(See T.I.M.E. Dividend information on how economic energy to fuel the buy and burn is generated)

(Visit app.internetmoney.io to interact with the Buy and Burn dApp)

The IM Buy and Burn is fueled by the T.I.M.E. Dividend (TIME) token. The team will dedicate an initial amount of TIME on BSC, Ethereum and PulseChain to the Buy and Burn.

- Anyone can deposit their TIME into the buy and burn contracts.
- There are no lock up periods. If you wish to contribute some portion of your TIME to this buy and burn, you can remove it whenever you see fit.
- Only the address that deposited TIME can remove it.
- 100% of the IM bought as a result of the buy and burn gets burned at the moment it is bought.
